FADE IN:

EXT. STREET, BICYCLE STORE - DAWN & DUSK

This scene should be repeated several times to indicate that it happens every day.

FATHER, 30 to 50 year-old man. He is wearing cheap working class clothes.

SON, 10 to 14 year-old boy. He is wearing cheap school uniform without jacket (only a shirt and pants). His clothes are clean and ironed, but worn out.

The Father takes his son to school every morning. Later, every afternoon, the Father picks him up from school. Their path lies past the bicycle store. Every day the son follows with a glance at an amazing black bicycle in that store (the price is about 2000 PLN). Then he always throws a questioning look at his father.

FATHER

Synku... Nie starczy nam pieniędzy na niego...

The Son sadly lowers his head without a word.

INT. BEDROOM - DUSK

Bedroom is a cute little room with a bed and a nightstand inside. There is also a calendar (preferably tear-off one) somewhere.

The Father tears off a page in the calendar (or crosses it, depending on what type of calendar is available) and he looks through a few more future days and there is his son's birthday there.

INT. BEDROOM - NIGHT

The Father is lying in bed and he remembers some moments of his son asking him about that bicycle.

FATHER (V.O.)

Jego urodziny za tydzień, a ja dalej
nie mam wystarczająco pieniędzy na ten rower...

He picks up his phone and opens a banking app to check the balance on his account.

FATHER (V.O. CONT.D)

Brakuje mi XXX złotych, a wypłata dopiero za dwa tygodnie... Biedny mój synek...

He puts his head on the pillow and closes his eyes.

FADE TO:

INT. BEDROOM - DAWN

Suddenly, the Father opens his eyes because a new idea has just been born.

FATHER

EUREKA!

FATHER (V.O. CONT.D)

Stary debil, po co krzyczysz?! Mam nadzieję że synek nie obudził się... Ale TAAAK, dokładnie, zegarek taty...

He looks at the nightstand near his bed where an old, worn out, gold wrist watch is.

FATHER (V.O. CONT.D)

I dziadka... I pradziadka... Ma prawie 70 lat, ale nadal działa! Gdybym go sprzedał, to powinno by było wystarczyć na ten rower... Szkoda zegarka oczywiście..., ale ja MUSZĘ kupić prezent dla synka!

EXT. STREET, BICYCLE STORE - DAWN

As usual, the Father takes his son to school, the Son looks at the bicycle (but he doesn't look at his father this time).

EXT. STREET, OLX BILLBOARD - DAWN

The Father looks at the OLX Billboard (Masz wózek? Wystaw go na OLX.pl) and a new idea appears in his head.

FATHER (V.O.)

Ohh, dokładnie, trzeba będzie wystawić mój zegarek na OLX!

INT. BEDROOM - DAY

The Father takes a picture of the watch with an old phone (preferably with a broken screen) and then creates an advertisement on the OLX platform (with the help of a very old laptop).

INT. BEDROOM - DAYS LATER

The Father was checking "Incoming messages" several times a day, and finally there is something:

BUYER (V.O.)

The Son has heard father's shouting, so he enters the room slowly.

SON
 Tatusiu? Co się stało?

The Father changes his facial expression quickly.

FATHER
 Wszystko w porządku, synku, nie martw się.

Then father approaches his Son and hugs him.

 wszystko w porządku.

SON
 Kocham cię, tatusiu!

INT. BEDROOM - DUSK

The Father tears off the page in the calendar and the son's birthday is the next day.

INT. BEDROOM - NIGHT

The Father lies in bed and checks the balance on his account. There is almost nothing there. He puts his phone on the nightstand and lowers his upset head on the pillow. He slowly closes his eyes.
